

QUAKER TO MEET QUAKER WHEN HARVARD AND PRINCETON CLASH ON GRIDIRON SATURDAY

LOCAL PLAYERS ON PENN SOCCER TEAM

Nine Varsity Men Are From Philadelphia Schools—Oppose Yale Saturday

MANY QUAKER VETERANS

When the University of Pennsylvania soccer team lines up against the Yale eleven on Franklin Field Saturday, it is expected that a strong contingent will not get a trip ticket to New York for the Dartmouth game, will be in the stands.

Soccer is the center of unusual interest at the University this year, as evidenced by the fact that it has more candidates than any other sport. At the present time, there are four teams in the field, and a schedule comprising more than fifty games has been drawn up by Manager Ramsey.

The entire varsity eleven is composed of veterans from previous years. "Big Phil" Nassau, the center forward, and 1017, captain, is again playing his old position, having returned to resume his studies after service in the navy. Nassau, who is a former Northeast star, is a consistent scorer and has not failed to locate the net in a single game this season, including the contest with the Bethlehem Steel Works team.

"AIRPLANE" CREW COACH

Yale Oarsmen Get the O. O. From Their Boss Flying Over 'Em New Haven, Conn., Nov. 6.—Coaching a crew by airplane is not yet practiced, although tried this week by George Van Santvoord, who has been assisting in coaching the Yale varsity squad. The first crew was on the harbor for practice when Mr. Van Santvoord in a plane, with a professional pilot, flew over it. He attempted by megaphone and signal to direct the oarsmen. As to the experiment, Mr. Van Santvoord said today it was novel to him, but aerial coaching is hardly likely to rival the present system. The airplane allows more views from different and better angles, but it is too fast for a crew and there is difficulty in communicating with it.

Complaint From Pitt's Manager

Dear Sir—Law Tandler, honored by sporting writers and Philadelphia in general as the greatest lightweight champion, has run out of a match with the Australian lightweight champion, Charley Pitts. The National club, your city, arranged and was advertising this match for next Saturday night. Pitts was and is still ready to go through. But Mr. Glassman, for some unknown reason, has withdrawn from the match. This is the second time that Glassman and Pitts have run out on Pitts. They were to have met in Detroit, Mich., on October 2. The match was arranged and closed. While waiting for transportation to Detroit, I received a wire notifying me that Glassman would not meet Pitts. Pitts and the promoter were forced to put harness on the Philadelphia sporting public. He is going to stand for Glassman to the next fight. He will not stand for Glassman if he is always telling the public that Benny Leonard will not meet Charley Pitts. I am going to find out just why if he has to make a trip to Philadelphia for that purpose. In fact, I am going to show Glassman and Pitts that they are not the only ones who can climb into a plane. I am going to bring Charley Pitts to Philadelphia next Saturday night and bring him down before the ring and challenge Tandler right before the home folks in his home town. Trusting that you will favor me in publishing this letter. I am sincerely yours, C. S. GELSPER.

BRITISH WANT DAVIS CUP TENNIS IN JANUARY

Feel They Won't Be Ready for Australian Conflict—Transportation Problem

According to advices from Sydney, the British lawn tennis authorities have asked the Australian association to postpone the challenge round for the Davis cup from late in December to January. It is explained by the English association that owing to difficulties in transportation it would not be possible for the British team to arrive in Australia before the end of this month or early in December.

The Britons desire at least a month of practice and acclimation. The Australians declare that they will try to do their best by the challenges, but at the same time they state that the matches ought to be played before January. In that month the heat is likely to be so great as to make high-class tennis impossible. The Australians would not mind the heat as much as would the Britons, so the longer the English delay the worse will be their chances of success.

In connection with the outlook for the Davis cup matches, Australian sporting periodicals warn strongly against overconfidence. It is pointed out that the Britons seem likely to be beaten, but that the Australians do not class as much higher than their rivals as to develop a feeling that the result already is in.

Too Cold for F. & M. Tennis

Leicester, Pa., Nov. 6.—Owing to another cold snap, the tennis courts at an annual affair, held at the Hotel Leicester, were closed yesterday. Captain Henry Myers announced yesterday that the play would be resumed in the spring, as many candidates have signified their intention of competing at that time. F. & M. Tennis also called off its tennis dogs.

Phil Speed Ben's Prize Dog

Milford Del., Nov. 6.—The annual dog trial of Ben's dogs which has been in progress at Oak Orchard this week has been interrupted by a heavy rain. The trial was suspended on the last day of competition when several were found by Phil Speed Ben, owner of Ben's dogs.

Ex-Quaker Schoolboys in Harvard vs. Princeton

When Princeton and Harvard meet in Tigertown Saturday for their big football game, two boys of the Philadelphia scholastic ranks will be on opposite sides. John Desmond, who played on the Northeast High team in 1913, and was graduated from the well-known institution in 1914, has gained an end position on Harvard's machine, while John Strubing, who attended Chestnut Hill Academy from 1907 to 1913, is quarterback of the Princeton team.

SPECIAL OLYMPIA BOUTS

Champion Herman Training Here for Clash With Joe Lynch

The first special show of the season will be put on at the Olympia A. A. next Wednesday evening. The principals will be the world's bantamweight champion, Herman, and Joe Lynch, who is ranked as the second best bantamweight in the world. Lynch recently returned from overseas, where he gained the distinction of having won the bantamweight and featherweight championships of his division, and getting newspaper decisions over Jimmy Wilde in the interlarded tournament in London.

DR. HARBAN CAN'T BE U. S. GOLF PRESIDENT

Walker, St. Louis, Named Instead When Washington Man Is Out on Ill Health

Only two of the names on the 1919 executive committee remain on the list of officials of the United States Golf Association, suggested by the nominating committee for the year 1920. It had been expected that Dr. Walter S. Harban, the first vice president, would be the new chief executive, but the Washington man had to refuse, on the ground of ill health.

George H. Walker, of St. Louis, has been named as president to succeed Frederick S. Winslow, of Annapolis, who has served for two years. Harban's place being filled by Howard F. Whitney, of Nassau, for several years secretary of the national body.

J. F. Byers, of Allegheny, has been nominated for second vice president instead of Sterling E. Edmunds, of St. Louis, while Whitney's place will be filled by W. D. Vanderpool, the Morris county man, who served as secretary of the Metropolitan Golf Association from 1909 to 1912, inclusive. Morris is the only official to
